Original idea and direction
Prof. K. N. Ganeshaiah

Translation
Yadugiri. V. T.

Database development
Ms. Nandita Mahadev

Acknowledgements
We are thankful to the Department of Biotechnology, Government of India, New Delhi, for partial financial help through the IBIN project funded to Prof K. N. Ganeshaiah, and to the Indian Academy of Sciences, Bangalore, for the financial assistance provided in the form of a Summer Research Fellowship to Ms. Yadugiri. V. T.

We also gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by the following people in making available to us some of the texts in this database:
Mr. K. Anand
Mr. Devaru Bhat
Dr. Satyanarayana Bhat
Prof. S. Sundara Rajan
Prof. A. R. Vasavi

References
Books
Dictionary of Sanskrit Plant Names with Botanical Equivalents, S. Sundara Rajan, Vardana Publications, 2005.

Krishi-Parashara, Nalini Sadhale, H. V. Balkundi and Y. L. Nene (Ed. and Trans.), Asian Agri-History Foundation, 1999.

Krsi-Parasara, Girija Prasanna Majumdar and Sures Chandra Banerji (Ed. and Trans.), The Asiatic Society, Calcutta, 1960.

Vrikshayurveda. In Lokopakaram, H. Sesha Iyengar (Ed.), Government Oriental Manuscripts Library, Madras, 1950.

Medicinal Plants (6th Ed.), S.K.Jain, National Book Trust, 1996.

Surapala's Vrikshayurveda, Nalini Sadhale (Ed. and Trans.), Asian Agri-History Foundation (1996). From: http://www.vedamu.org/AuyrvedaLiterature/Surapala_s_Urikshayuruedas/SurapalasUrikshayuruedas.asp

Upavanavinoda. In Sharngadharapaddhathi, Sharngadhara. Verses 2082 – 2318.

Vrikshayurvedavichara. In Brihat Samhitha of Varahamihira with the commentary, Maya (Hindi), Surakanth Jha, Chowkhamba Krishnadas Academy, Varanasi, 2009, pp. 383 – 388.

Databases
Pandanus Database of Indian Plants. http://iu.ff.cuni.cz/pandanus/database/

Sasya Bharathi (Dakshinamnaya) Database, K. N. Ganeshaiah, 2004-05.